Festive foliage

Incorporating foliage and nature into our homes has been an ongoing trend throughout 2022, and one that is set to continue right through the festive season.

Christmas wreaths and garlands are amongst our most versatile Christmas decorations. Adorn your fireplace with a festive garland for effortless Christmas cheer or welcome your neighbours around for a mince pie and mulled wine in style. But wait, there's myrrh; intertwine your foliage with battery fairy lights for an added mistle-glow.
